Entry requirements

No previous knowledge or skills are required. Learners must be over 19 years of age. Some courses may require you to undertake an initial assessment prior to the course.

Who is this course for?

This course is aimed at anyone who wants to forage in a sustainable way and save money.

Course aims

Understand the concept of sustainable foraging and its importance for ecological balance.

Identify sustainable foraging practices and their benefits such as saving money.

Develop skills for responsible and ethical foraging.

How will the course be delivered?

This is a practical course and the sessions will include tutor-led demonstrations, learner-led group activities, instruction and repetition. These will form part of the delivery together with one-to-one support as required.

Will I need to study or practise outside the classroom?

You will be expected to review your notes between lessons to ensure maximum benefit from your course. You will be expected to practice the skills learnt in your day to day life.

How will I know I'm making progress?

At the beginning of the session, your tutor will share with you the objectives of the day, which will give you an opportunity to think about your individual aims for the session. At the end of the session, you will have time to share your experience and reflect on what you learned.

What will I need for the course?

Please bring a pen and notepad. Full commitment and willingness to participate and engage with your own learning.

Progression

Maths courses or other sustainability courses are available.
